Hammock Camping
The Basics
1. Look for sturdy trees about 12–15 ft (3.6–4.6 m) apart.
2. Attach 1–2 in (2.5-5 cm) wide webbing straps around trees (to protect the bark) about 6 ft (1.8 m) high to create attachment points.
3. Hammock rope can be lashed directly to the webbing, tied to a carabiner, looped through a toggle, or in many other configurations.
Toggle
4. 30°
Attempt a 30° angle from the hammock line to the tree.
5. Keep the hammock about chair height, 12–18 in (31–46 cm), above the ground.
Bug Net
A ridgeline helps make a perfect pitch. 6.
Carabiner
Add a tarp for rain and wind protection. 7.

No need to worry about uneven, rocky, wet, muddy, bug-infested ground again!

Birds-eye View
Sleep in a hammock at a slight angle to lay mostly flat and cozy.
Generally speaking, the hammock should be hung evenly between the trees and at the same relative height on uneven terrain.
The tarp ridgeline should be tied below the hammock straps so the tarp will be close when the hammock sags while occupied.

Looped webbing can be threaded through each other to attach to a tree.

Pitching a Hammock Tarp

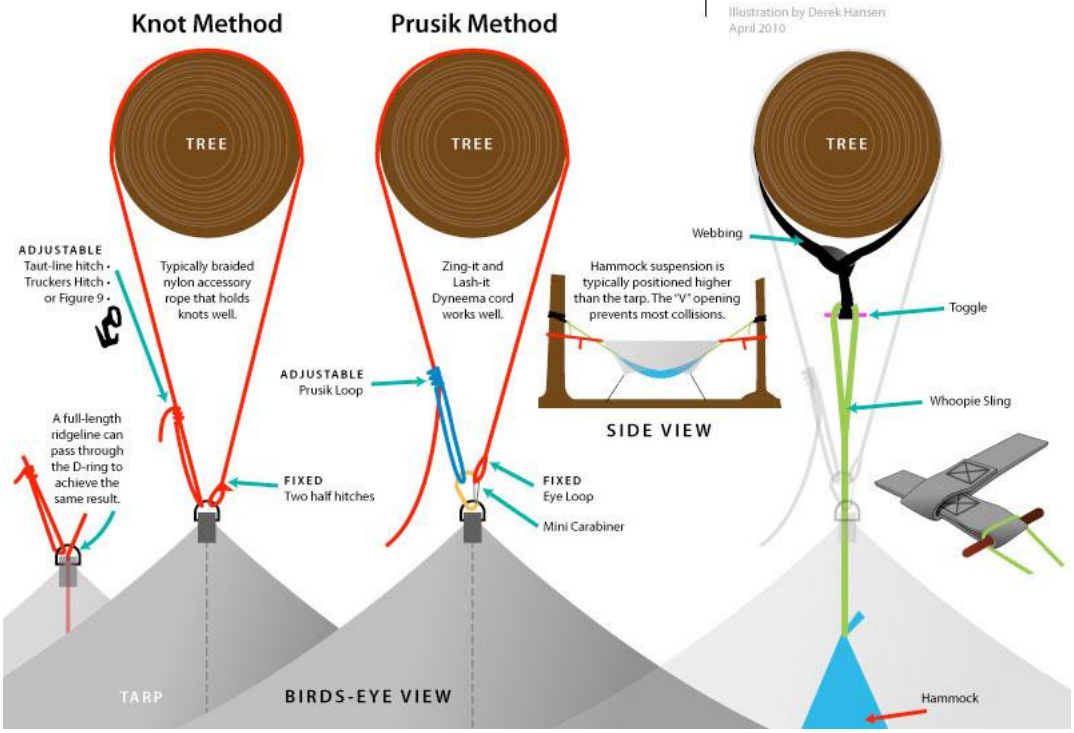

Pitching a Tarp with a Hammock

By pitching the tarp line in a "V," the hammock suspension can easily hang between the tarp line without any interference.

RIGGING A TARP

WITH A CONTINUOUS RIDGE LINE AND No Hardware Required!

by Derek Hansen · May 202

1. Tie two half-hitches to one tie-out on the ridge line.

THE "V"
(less collisions between tarp and hammock suspension lines!)

2. Wrap line around tree and back through tie-out.

Take line over (or under) tarp and through opposite tie-out.

Wrap around tree and back to the tie out.

Finish with an adjustable taut-line hitch.
